proclamation put forth by the Cincinnation outsistory two weeks ago as Catholic doctrine as it relates to the United States:

There is steadily growing the dectrine as it relates to the United States:

There is steadily growing the dectrine that "all power is from the people, and that tooy who exercise authority in the state do not exercise it as their own, but as entrusted to fisem by the people, and upon this condition: that it may be recalled by the will of that same people by whom it was confided to them." This is not Catholfe dectrine. * They who are to be set over the republic may, in certain cases, he chosen by the will of and the decision of the people without any opposition or repugnance to Catholfe dectrine. By this choice the ruler is designated, but rights of government are not conferred, and power is not given. * * It should not be fecunate that the government are not conferred, and power is not given. * * It should not be fecunate the fine of citizen to citizen mast be founded on the law of food, and that the priest is guardian, and, under the direction of the church, too interpreter of that law; and consequently in all matters of civil life appertaining to faith and morate that priest has a right to speak and the people are required to listen. * * It is untime that all power comes from the people.
